

PhoCusWright and Travel Tech Consulting have partnered to bring you

CORPORATE TRAVEL TECHNOLOGY

Today and Tomorrow

This report will illuminate emerging trends in these categories:

- self-booking tools
- corporate portals
- quality control
- meetings management
- business intelligence
- risk management
- TMC services
- account management

Corporate Travel Technology: Today and Tomorrow is a comprehensive and authoritative study designed to educate the corporate travel buyer and manager on current and emerging trends in corporate travel technology. This report will describe current features and functionality of various corporate travel applications. It will also highlight plans for adding Travel 2.0 features, such as user-generated content and rich Internet UIs using technologies like AJAX.

Be prepared for the future.

Find answers to questions such as:

- What is Web 2.0/Travel 2.0 and how does it relate to corporate travel technology?
- What are the general technology trends that will influence future development in corporate travel technology?
- What are the specific macro corporate travel technology trends that are driving product definition and differentiation?
- What are the unique and emerging trends in corporate self-booking technology?
- What is the value and evolution of mid-office quality control software?
- What are the major trends in corporate travel business intelligence?
- What are the ranges of costs associated with corporate travel technology?
- How do you calculate ROI on your travel management investment?

You'll benefit from this intelligence.

Corporate Travel Technology: Today and Tomorrow will help industry executives and other key decision makers in all segments of the travel, tourism and hospitality industries to make informed, strategic business decisions.

- Reduce risk for strategic decisions, investments and partnerships.
- Gain understanding of key technologies for better forecasting.
- Benefit from being an early adopter of new technologies.

Visit us online today to order this invaluable resource.

Go to traveltechnology.stores.yahoo.net to order this report for only US$600.

NBTA International Convention and Exposition attendees save $200 through August 31, 2007. Use coupon code: NBTA.

PhoCusWright is the travel industry research authority on the evolving dynamics that influence how travelers, suppliers and intermediaries connect. phocuswright.com

Travel Tech Consulting is the leading authority on emerging travel technologies and travel related e-business. traveltechnology.com